HAMAS AGREES TO DISARMAMENT AS ISRAELI MINISTER CONDEMNS PEACE PLAN

On July 31, 2026, Hamas officials confirmed an agreement on its complete disarmament in Gaza as part of a peace plan. Hamas negotiator Ghazi Hamad stated that a committee of Palestinian technocrats would manage weapons and daily life during a transition period. The plan includes a progressive withdrawal of Israeli forces which currently control over 60 percent of the territory. Far right Israeli Minister Itamar Ben Gvir condemned the agreement as unacceptable and claimed it would allow Hamas to prepare for future massacres. An anonymous Israeli political source insisted that no withdrawal will occur without the verified demilitarization of the Gaza Strip.

PALESTINIAN YOUTH WOUNDED BY LIVE AMMUNITION DURING SETTLER MARCH

On July 31, 2026, a young Palestinian man was wounded by live ammunition during a march of Israeli settlers through several localities in the occupied West Bank. The Palestinian Red Crescent reported that the victim was struck in the abdomen during an incursion by the Israeli army and settlers in the al-Junaid neighborhood. Between 100 and 150 settlers including approximately 10 armed individuals organized the march in memory of 2 Israelis killed the previous week in Tel. Witnesses stated that settlers entered at least one building in Tel and four others in al-Junaid where they clashed with Palestinian youths. The Israeli army claimed that soldiers intervened to disperse the gathering and evacuate civilians after Palestinians threw stones at the group. A second Palestinian was reportedly shot later in the day after soldiers triggered a suspect apprehension protocol during another stone throwing incident.

4 PALESTINIANS INCLUDING 2 CHILDREN KILLED BY AIR STRIKES

On July 30, 2026, Israeli air strikes killed 4 people including 2 children in the Gaza Strip according to emergency services and local hospitals. Mahmoud Bassal, the spokesperson for the Civil Defense confirmed that one Palestinian was killed and 10 others were wounded near a displacement camp at Yarmouk Stadium. The Nasser Hospital in Khan Younès received the bodies of 2 people including an 8 year old girl following an Israeli helicopter strike on a family tent. An additional strike in the Bureij refugee camp killed one child and wounded several others according to the al-Aqsa hospital. The Israeli army confirmed it targeted “terrorist infrastructures” during the night. These attacks occurred while a Hamas delegation held talks in Cairo with Egyptian and Qatari mediators to consolidate the October 2025 ceasefire. Since the fragile truce began at least 1,214 Palestinians have died in the territory.

ISRAEL ARRESTS SETTLER FOR ASSAULT AGAINST PALESTINIANS

On July 29, 2026, Israeli authorities arrested a settler suspected of participating in a violent assault against Palestinians in the village of Huwara last month. The police stated the suspect is an Israeli in his twenties who belongs to a local civilian volunteer unit established by the army to secure settlements. Video footage of the June 6 attack showed a man in a military uniform carrying an assault rifle and striking Palestinians including one who was on the ground. The suspect had been a fugitive for one month before being captured during a joint operation by Israeli security forces. Several other suspects have been arrested in connection with the case and one has already been indicted.

ISRAELI STRIKE DESTROYS MOSQUE IN GAZA CITY

On July 29, 2026, the Israeli army announced it destroyed a mosque in Gaza City that was allegedly used by Hamas for weapon storage. Military officials stated the operation was part of a week long campaign targeting multiple Hamas storage sites in the central and northern Gaza Strip. Witnesses described seeing flames and a massive column of smoke rising over displacement tents after the strike on the al-Mouttaqin mosque. Dozens of Palestinians evacuating the area after the army provided a warning before the bombardment. Amir Abou al-Amrain, the Director General of the Ministry of Religious Affairs in Gaza accused the occupation of using false pretexts to justify the total destruction of the holy site. UNESCO established that 164 heritage sites including 14 religious buildings have been damaged since October 2023.

PALESTINIAN WOMAN SUFFERS MISCARRIAGE AT ISRAELI CHECKPOINT

On July 27, 2026, Palestinian health authorities reported that a 28 year old woman suffered a miscarriage in an ambulance after being delayed by Israeli soldiers at a checkpoint. Caregiver Bashar Qaryouti stated that the woman who was 6 months pregnant was sick and unconscious. The ambulance was forced to use dirt paths through olive groves because the main entrance to the village was closed. Soldiers at the Awarta checkpoint forced the driver to cut the engine and confiscated the identification cards of the medical staff for over 30 minutes. A nurse was compelled to deliver the stillborn baby inside the vehicle as the woman's condition worsened during the wait. Hospital director Fouad Nafaa confirmed the patient was prevented from reaching the facility by the army. The Israeli army denied the allegations and claimed they received no report of the incident.

GENERAL EISENKOT EMERGES AS PRINCIPAL RIVAL TO NETANYAHU

On July 27, 2026, former Chief of Staff Gadi Eisenkot emerged as the primary rival to Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu ahead of the October 27 legislative elections. The 66 year old former military chief leads the Yashar party which is currently surpassing the Likud in opinion polls. Gadi Eisenkot is a vocal critic of the war management in Gaza where his son died in 2023. His political program includes a promise to establish an independent commission of inquiry into the security failures of October 7. The candidate also advocates for a universal national service law to include ultra-orthodox Jews and Israeli Arabs. Despite been seen as more moderate, Gadi Eisenkot previously initiated the Dahiyé doctrine of massive military reprisals during the 2006 Lebanon war.

SETTLERS BURN 2 MOSQUES

On July 26, 2026, Palestinian officials reported that Israeli settlers set fire to 2 mosques in the northern West Bank during a night of intense violence. Mayor Abdel Azim Wadi stated that settlers targeted a religious building under construction in Qousra where they left Hebrew graffiti including the word vengeance. The Israeli army confirmed that soldiers found evidence of arson and graffiti after suspects fled the scene before their arrival. A second mosque was targeted with fire and racist tags in the village of Kour according to the Palestinian Ministry of Endowments and Religious Affairs. On Sunday evening the Israeli army announced the arrest of over 130 people across the West Bank including alleged members of Hamas and arms traffickers.

UNREST NEAR SUSYA SETTLEMENT

On July 25, 2026, the Israeli army reported that clashes involving stone throwing broke out between Israelis and Palestinians in the southern West Bank. The incident took place near the Susya settlement where an Israeli civilian was wounded by a stone and evacuated for medical treatment. A military statement indicated that a person described as a terrorist stole a weapon from one of the Israelis and fired shots into the air. Soldiers established roadblocks in the area to pursue the suspect while tensions remained high. The Palestinian Red Crescent recorded additional attacks by settlers on July 24 that wounded 8 people in Far'ata and 2 men in Sarra. Since October 2023 at least 1,094 Palestinians and 48 Israelis have died in the West Bank.

ISRAELI ARMY PREPARES WEST BANK OPERATION AFTER CLASHES

On July 24, 2026, the Israeli army announced preparations for a vast antiterrorist operation in the northern West Bank following settler involved violence that killed 2 Israelis and 4 Palestinians. The clashes occurred in the village of Tel after approximately 20 settlers from the Havat Gilad settlement entered the locality. Village council head Walid Zidan stated that settlers and Israeli soldiers opened fire on the community with the intention to kill and destroy property.

2 ISRAELIS & 4 PALESTINIANS KILLED IN WEST BANK SETTLER VIOLENCE, ISRAEL PREPARES 'LARGE OPERATION'

On July 24, 2026, the Israeli army said it was preparing a “large-scale operation” in the northern occupied West Bank after settler-related violence left 2 Israelis and 4 Palestinians dead. Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, vowing to act “with a firm hand”, announced the “acceleration of the legalization of outposts,” which are settlements considered illegal even under Israeli law. The clashes occurred in Tel, near the Havat Gilad settlement, after around twenty settlers entered the village, according to village council head Walid Zidan, who said soldiers opened fire alongside settlers intent on killing, looting and burning property. Several witnesses gave similar accounts. The army initially described an attack on Israeli hikers before citing a “violent clash” involving dozens of Palestinians and Israelis. Officials said a Palestinian seized a settler's weapon and killed him. A second Israeli was killed too. Finance Minister Bezalel Smotrich, a far-right figure, called for the army to act “with an iron fist.” Separately, the Palestinian Red Crescent said 7 people were wounded, several by gunfire, in a settler attack on olive groves and homes in Far'ata, near Qalqilya. Local officials accused settlers accompanied by Israeli forces.

ISRAELI CIVILIAN KILLS 2 PALESTINIANS AFTER SETTLER STABBED

On July 23, 2026, an Israeli civilian killed two Palestinians after they stabbed another Israeli in the northern occupied West Bank, the Israeli army said. “Two terrorists stabbed an Israeli civilian” taking part in efforts to extinguish a fire that broke out near the Itamar settlement, Israeli forces said, adding that another “Israeli civilian present at the scene eliminated the two terrorists.” Israeli police said the knife attack occurred while Israelis “were trying to put out a fire that appeared to have been deliberately set.” The wounded Israeli, hit in the chest, was taken to hospital in serious condition, the Magen David Adom emergency service said. Israeli soldiers searched the area of Beit Fourik, the Palestinian village near the settlement, and set up a temporary security cordon. Yossi Dagan, head of the regional council representing northern West Bank settlements, visited the site and denounced a “grave terrorist incident,” calling for a firm government response. The regional council blamed the fire on Palestinians from Beit Fourik, though Israeli authorities said an investigation was ongoing.

ISRAELI MINISTER ENTER FLASHPOINT AL AQSA MOSQUE COMPOUND

On July 23, 2026, Israeli National Security Minister Itamar Ben Gvir, a far-right figure, visited the flashpoint Al-Aqsa Mosque compound in East Jerusalem with hundreds of Jewish visitors. The visit coincided with Tisha B'Av, a Jewish day of fasting and mourning commemorating the destruction of the ancient Temples in Jerusalem. Ben Gvir and hundreds of other Jewish visitors, including settlers, enter the site and some pray there despite this being barred under the decades-old status quo governing access to the compound. “Look at what's happening here: Jews are praying and feel this place belongs to them by right,” Ben Gvir said in a video posted on Telegram. The compound, home to Islam's third-holiest site and Judaism's most sacred site, is governed by a long-standing arrangement between Israel and Jordan. The arrangement allows Jews to visit but not pray there. Ben Gvir, an anti-Arab far-right figure, has visited the compound more than a dozen times since joining government and has previously used Tisha B'Av gatherings to call for tougher Israeli policy in Gaza and the West Bank.

ISRAELI BANKS MOVE TO CUT VITAL TIES WITH PALESTINIAN BANKS

On July 23, 2026, Israeli banks notified their Palestinian counterparts of their intention to soon end essential services, Israeli and Palestinian officials said, raising fears of an economic crisis in the occupied West Bank. The banks cite growing risk of exposure to lawsuits over their dealings with Palestinian counterparts, though several industry officials said the main driver was the increasing instability of an arrangement originally designed to be temporary. These services are essential to financing imports, including electricity and food, from Israel into the Palestinian territory. Israel's finance ministry said Israeli banks had “recently announced their intention to stop providing correspondent banking services,” citing overall risk levels and concerns about possible civil lawsuits. Palestinian banking officials said some Palestinian banks could lose this access as early as mid-August, with others following by September. Experts warned a rupture could increase cash transactions and the informal economy. The Palestinian Authority is already in a severe financial crisis after Israel suspended, for more than a year, the transfer of tax revenues it collects on its behalf, representing about two-thirds of its income.

NETHERLANDS BAN IMPORTS OF ISRAELI SETTLEMENT PRODUCTS

On July 21, 2026, the Dutch government announced that products from Israeli settlements in the occupied Palestinian territories will no longer be allowed into the Netherlands from September 22. The ban applies to “the import, purchase and sale of goods from illegal Israeli settlements in the Palestinian territories,” the foreign ministry said, adding that circumventing the measures would also be prohibited. Israel has occupied the West Bank since 1967. More than 500,000 Israeli settlers live there, despite that all Israeli settlements are considered illegal under international law. “With the proposed measures, the Netherlands is reinforcing its commitment to its international legal obligation not to contribute to this illegal situation,” the ministry said. According to a 413-page report published in June by the legal NGO Global Echo, which brings legal action on behalf of Palestinians, the Netherlands alone accounts for a third of recorded exports of agricultural products grown in illegal Israeli settlements, and nearly half of such exports to the EU.

UN DENOUNCES 'INTENSIFICATION' OF ISRAELI ATTACKS IN GAZA, 57 DEAD IN A WEEK

On July 21, 2026, the UN human rights office denounced a recent “intensification” of Israeli military attacks in the Gaza Strip, which it said killed at least 57 people between July 13 and 20. Nine months after the ceasefire was announced, “no place is yet safe for Palestinians in Gaza,” spokesman Thameen Al-Kheetan told reporters in Geneva, saying the Israeli army had “intensified” its attacks in recent days, striking residential buildings, tents sheltering displaced people, and other densely populated areas. Of the 57 people killed, including six children and eight women, 34 died far from the “yellow line” that marks the boundary between Hamas and Israeli army-controlled areas, Al-Kheetan said. Al-Kheetan said the deaths of civilians raised “concerns about continuing violations of international humanitarian law,” recalling that deliberately attacking civilians constitutes a war crime, and said the shifting “yellow line” posed a “permanent threat” to civilians. At least 1,144 Palestinians have been killed in Gaza since the ceasefire took effect in October 2025.

12 PALESTINIANS, INCLUDING 6 FROM ONE FAMILY, KILLED IN GAZA

On July 21, 2026, 12 Palestinians, including 6 members of one family, among them children, were killed in the Gaza Strip, rescuers and witnesses said. Gaza's civil defense agency said a pre-dawn strike hit the al-Masri family's home in Gaza City. Al-Chifa hospital confirmed receiving the bodies and more wounded people. An Israeli military source said the strike had “targeted a Hamas terrorist” in the area without further detail. At al-Chifa hospital, a young girl's body was placed in a white body bag alongside others wrapped in blankets as relatives wept. A survivor said he could hear children calling for help but could not save them, and that his “brother entire family was wiped from the civil registry: him, his wife and their four children.” Civil defense recorded 6 more people killed elsewhere in Gaza that day.

KHALIL AL-HAYYA IS HAMAS' NEW LEADER

On July 20, 2026, Hamas announced that Khalil al-Hayya had been elected the new leader of the Palestinian Islamist movement, following months of collective leadership after the death of Yahya Sinwar. The movement said al-Hayya was elected by an overwhelming majority of the Shura Council, its consultative body responsible for electing leadership. Al-Hayya, Hamas's chief negotiator, is expected to formally take office the following week. The political bureau was to meet shortly in Istanbul to form committees and restructure leadership, while the five-member collective leadership, set up after Sinwar's death, would resign. Al-Hayya, born in 1960, spent three years in Israeli prisons and survived an assassination attempt in Doha in 2025 attributed to Israel. The Ezzedine al-Qassam Brigades, Hamas's armed wing, declared their “full support” for al-Hayya.

2 PALESTINIANS SHOT DEAD BY ISRAELI ARMY DURING SETTLER RAID ON WEST BANK VILLAGE

On July 20, 2026, the Palestinian health ministry said the Israeli army shot dead two Palestinians during a nighttime attack by a group of Israeli settlers on a village in the occupied West Bank. The ministry, based in Ramallah, identified the victims as Odeh Abdoul Rahim Odeh Farakhna and Ahmad Adel Rachid Abou Mkhoul, saying they were “killed by occupation forces' gunfire” in the town of Deir Jarir. The Palestinian Red Crescent said it evacuated another person wounded during an earlier settler attack on the same town the previous evening. The Israeli army said soldiers had deployed to Deir Jarir to protect and evacuate settlers who had entered the area to recover livestock, adding that a “violent clash” developed after “terrorists” threw stones at militaries, who “opened fire to remove the threat.” Deir Jarir's mayor, Eid Hamad, said settlers came to seize sheep and cattle they did not own, escorted by the army and police, loading the animals onto a truck, when village youths confronted them. The army “began firing on the young people present, causing casualties,” he said at the men's funeral.

AT LEAST 11 PALESTINIANS KILLED IN GAZA STRIKES

On July 19, 2026, Gaza's civil defense agency, which operates under Hamas authority, said 11 people, including a couple and three of their children, were killed by Israeli strikes in the Gaza Strip despite the ceasefire. Five members of one family were killed when a missile struck an apartment in northwest Gaza City. Civil defense spokesman Mahmoud Bassal said the family's only survivor was a child who had not been at home at the time. Al-Chifa hospital confirmed receiving the five bodies. An Israeli military spokeswoman said a strike had targeted “a Hamas terrorist” in Gaza City and that the army was assessing the results. Three more people were killed in a separate strike on a group of civilians in Gaza City's Zeitoun neighborhood, also confirmed by al-Chifa hospital. Hours later, Bassal reported a woman killed in the same neighborhood by Israeli artillery fire on a tent sheltering displaced people, with several people wounded and three reported missing. Health officials reported two further people killed elsewhere in the territory that day. The army did not respond to a request for comment on those strikes.

SETTLERS TORCH MOSQUE IN OCCUPIED WEST BANK

On July 19, 2026, Israeli settlers set fire overnight to a mosque in a village in the occupied West Bank. About twenty settlers, some masked, attacked the Al-Taqwa mosque in the village of At-Tuwani and set it ablaze, said Mohammed Rabie, head of the village council. The attackers also set fire to two homes and a dairy before fleeing as villagers emerged. Residents managed to extinguish the flames before they spread. Israeli police said they deployed forces to the village after being alerted and opened an investigation. According to Rabie, Israeli army, police and fire personnel arrived roughly half an hour after the attack. Palestinian activist Ossama Mahamra said the attack occurred in full view of the Israeli army, noting an army watchtower stands near the mosque. The Palestinian religious affairs ministry condemned a “full-fledged act of terrorism,” accusing Israel's government of encouraging settler violence to displace Palestinians.

THOUSANDS OF ISRAELIS MARCH TOWARD GAZA TO DEMAND SETTLEMENTS

On July 19, 2026, thousands of Israelis, including settlers and right-wing activists, marched toward the border with the Gaza Strip to call on the government to re-establish settlements in the ravaged Palestinian land. Participant Daniel Sellem, who said he had lived in Gaza before being evacuated in 2005, said the march aimed to show the government “this land belongs to us” and that Gaza should be reclaimed. Another participant, Yechiel Greenblum, said the march marked the start of a broader campaign for the return of Israeli communities to the territory, more than two decades after all Israeli settlements there were dismantled. Israeli security forces deployed to prevent marchers from reaching the border fence overlooking northern Gaza. Similar marches have previously been organized to pressure Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's government, one of the most right-wing in Israel's history, to allow settlement resettlement.

ISRAEL CLASSIFIES NILE CROCODILES AS CAPTIVE WILDLIFE FOR USE IN PRISON SECURITY

On July 18, 2026, Israel's environmental protection minister, Idit Silman, reclassified Nile crocodiles as “captive-bred wildlife,” opening the way for their use in prison security. National Security Minister Itamar Ben Gvir, a far-right figure, welcomed the move. He had proposed in December using crocodiles to deter Palestinian prisoners from attempting to escape, and posted an AI-generated image of himself holding a crocodile on a leash captioned as a warning to prisoners. According to Israel's Channel 13, the nature and parks authority had opposed the plan, but the new regulation allows Nile crocodiles, previously classified as wild animals, to be kept by “a security body”. Israeli media reported that Ben Gvir intends to deploy crocodiles around Ketziot prison in southern Israel, which holds numerous Palestinian militants.

PALESTINIAN TEEN FOOTBALLER KILLED BY SETTLERS

On July 18, 2026, Fadi Hamdallah al-Nassan, a 17-year-old Palestinian youth footballer for the al-Mughayyir club, died of wounds sustained several days earlier during a settler attack on his village in the occupied West Bank, according to his family and officials. The Palestine Football Association accused the Israeli army of shooting the teenager during the settler attack, saying he was hit by an “explosive bullet” and had to undergo an amputation before dying of his injuries. His father, Hamdallah al-Nassan, said the teenager ran to help as he heard women and girls screaming during the settler attack, and was shot. The Palestinian news agency Wafa gave similar details, adding that two other village residents were hit by rubber bullets fired by Israeli soldiers, and a 10-year-old boy was struck in the head by a stun grenade.

ELDERS GROUP WARNS OF PALESTINE'S “DISAPPEARANCE,” MEETS ISRAELI PRESIDENT

On July 17, 2026, two representatives of the Elders, a group of international figures founded by Nelson Mandela, warned that Israel's government is seeking to make Palestine “disappear physically, economically, culturally and politically,” and called for an end to Israeli “impunity.” Former Irish president Mary Robinson and former New Zealand prime minister Helen Clark visited Israel, the Palestinian territories, Jordan and Lebanon. Clark said the key message from civil society in the West Bank was a demand for accountability and an end to impunity. Robinson said she was ashamed the EU had not taken a firmer stance and urged Brussels to suspend the trade component of its association agreement with Israel and ban trade with settlements. Both said conditions in the occupied West Bank had markedly worsened since a previous mission in 2023, with Robinson describing settler violence as “systemic.” The pair met Israeli President Isaac Herzog, reporting disagreement “on a number of points”. Israel's presidency described the meeting as a “respectful exchange” while rejecting what it called partisan criticism.

ISRAELI SETTLERS MOVE INTO NEW OUTPOST

On July 16, 2026, Israeli families began moving into a new settlement on Mount Ebal overlooking Nablus in the northern West Bank, a regional settler council announced, amid a broader expansion of settlement activity. The Samaria Regional Council said families were relocating personal belongings into mobile homes at the new “Ebal” settlement, which officials said is intended to eventually house about 600 families. Nablus governor Ghassan Daghllass said residents used to visit Mount Ebal to walk and get fresh air, but that settlements and attacks were now encircling the city and cutting off that access, noting a military base and part of another settlement already sit on the neighboring Mount Gerizim. Council chairman Yossi Dagan called the outpost a step toward strengthening Israeli presence across the northern West Bank. More than 500,000 Israelis now live in West Bank settlements alongside about 3 million Palestinians.

ISRAELI NGO CONDEMNS €2.3 BILLION WEST BANK SETTLEMENT HOUSING PLAN

On July 15, 2026, Israeli anti-settlement NGO Peace Now condemned a government plan allocating roughly €2.3 billion to build thousands of new homes in West Bank settlements. Earlier in the week, Netanyahu and Finance Minister Bezalel Smotrich signed a framework agreement for new investment in settlements in the northern West Bank, which Smotrich called a major step in the “settlement revolution.” The deal foresees roughly 12,000 new housing units alongside investment exceeding eight billion shekels in infrastructure and public institutions. Peace Now accused the government of squandering public funds to entrench the occupation, warning the move would complicate any future Israeli withdrawal or Palestinian statehood, and that such framework agreements let large-scale settlement projects proceed in ways a future government could not easily reverse. Since taking office in 2022, the Netanyahu government has approved 102 new settlements in the West Bank.

8 KILLED IN ISRAELI STRIKE ON GAZA POLICE STATION, NGOS LAUNCH CAMPAIGN ON SEXUAL VIOLENCE IN ISRAELI PRISONS

On July 14, 2026, Gaza's Civil Defense said eight people, including a woman, were killed when an Israeli strike hit a Palestinian police post west of the Jabalia camp in northern Gaza. Al-Shifa Hospital confirmed receiving the eight bodies. Hamas condemned the strike and said the police station's chief was among those killed. The Israeli military said it had killed four Hamas members in the strike without identifying the other victims. Meanwhile, Palestinian NGOs launched an international campaign to document and combat sexual violence against Palestinian detainees in Israeli prisons. Campaign coordinator Youssef al-Amayreh, released in January after two years in Israeli detention, said the initiative had already gathered dozens of testimonies from former detainees alleging sexual abuse, though he said many victims remain too afraid to come forward for health, safety or social reasons. Al-Amayreh said he was himself a victim but gave no further detail. Israeli, Palestinian and international NGOs have repeatedly raised concerns about torture and degrading detention conditions, especially since the Gaza war began. A May UN report by the special rapporteur on torture, Alice Jill Edwards, documented 52 cases of torture or mistreatment and 33 cases of sexual torture or abuse, and urged Israel to review its detention policy. Journalist Sami al-Sai said he was gang-raped during detention between February 2024 and June 2025. Israel suspended ICRC visits to Palestinian detainees after October 7, 2023, although its Supreme Court overturned the ban in June, visits have not resumed.

PARLIAMENT SUSPENDS ARRESTS OF ULTRA-ORTHODOX MILITARY DRAFT EVADERS

On July 14, 2026, Israel's Knesset passed, by 58 votes to 54, a law suspending the arrest of ultra-Orthodox yeshiva students who refuse compulsory military service, a move criticized by the opposition as the army faces personnel shortages. The vote came days before the Knesset's dissolution ahead of October 27 elections. Ultra-Orthodox leaders have long opposed conscription, arguing it would divert young men from religious study.

EU DONORS PLEDGE NEARLY €900 MILLION FOR GAZA, IMPRISONED PALESTINIAN LEADER WOUNDED

On July 13, 2026, the European Commission announced that international donors were ready to commit close to €900 million for Gaza's reconstruction, but said the funds' delivery depends on conditions being met on the ground, including Hamas's disarmament. Mediterranean Commissioner Dubravka Suica said the money would help clear rubble left by Israel's offensive and rebuild basic services such as water and sanitation, while Crisis Management Commissioner Hadja Lahbib said Gaza's population still lacks the minimum needed to survive and that international NGOs are working under what is described as nearly impossible conditions. The EU remains the Palestinians' largest aid provider at this date. On the same day, the family of imprisoned Palestinian leader Marwan Barghouti said an Israeli prison guard shot him in the leg with a rubber bullet, an allegation Israel's prison service denied. His wife Fadwa Barghouti said the shooting, which drew blood and caused a painful wound, was the latest in a pattern of abuse against him while his son said the incident occurred at Ganot prison in Negev and that his father received no medical treatment. A letter from Barghouti's lawyer said his client complained of being shot. Barghouti, 67, is a senior Fatah figure arrested in 2002 and serving a life sentence over involvement in attacks that killed 5 people. Often seen as a possible successor to President Mahmoud Abbas, he was re-elected to Fatah's central committee in 2026 with the most votes of any candidate. The Arab League has called for an international inquiry into what it calls repeated assaults against him.

4 KILLED IN ISRAELI DRONE STRIKE, GIRL SHOT IN CENTRAL GAZA

On July 12, 2026, Gaza's Civil Defense and a local hospital reported that an Israeli drone strike killed four people at a metalworking workshop in southern Gaza City. Al-Shifa Hospital confirmed receiving the four bodies. The Israeli military confirmed carrying out the strike, describing the target only as “terrorist infrastructure.” In a separate incident, a young girl was killed by Israeli machine-gun fire at the Al-Bureij refugee camp in central Gaza, according to the Civil Defense. Her body was taken to Al-Aqsa Martyrs Hospital in Deir el-Balah.

POLICE ARRESTS 4 ISRAELI SETTLERS AFTER AN ATTACK AGAINST JOURNALISTS

On July 11, 2026, Israeli police announced the arrest of four suspects accused of damaging a CNN crew's vehicle near the village of Sinjil, north of Ramallah, in an incident the network described as a settler attack on its team. CNN reported that four settlers armed with sticks, metal bars and a knife blocked the crew's car as it left the area, then smashed the windshield of a second vehicle carrying other journalists. The attack came days after US Congressman Ro Khanna said he and other Americans were briefly held by armed settlers during a West Bank visit, alleging Israeli troops sided with the settlers. The Israeli army denied restricting his movement.

ISRAELI DRONE STRIKE ON REFUGEE CAMP KILLS 6 PEOPLE

On July 9, 2026, Civil Defense and medical sources stated that 6 people died in Israeli airstrikes and fire across the Gaza Strip. An Israeli drone strike on the Nuseirat refugee camp in central Gaza killed 2 people and wounded several others. 4 other individuals were killed in separate attacks in various locations. A security source in Gaza reported that one strike targeted the vehicle of Hamas spokesperson Hazem Qassem, killing his bodyguard. Qassem was not inside the vehicle at the time of the explosion. Local hospitals confirmed receiving the bodies of all 6 victims. The Israeli army did not provide an immediate response to requests for comment.

JOURNALIST DESCRIBES ISRAELI PRISON AS A CEMETERY

On July 8, 2026, journalist Mujahid Bani Mufleh denounced the brutal conditions of his 6 month detention in an Israeli prison. The reporter was arrested at his home in June 2025 in front of his children. He reported being beaten inside a military vehicle and losing 20 kilograms during his incarceration. Mujahid Bani Mufleh was held under administrative detention without formal charges or evidence of his alleged incitement to violence. Following his release, he needed multiple surgeries, including the partial removal of his skull. His wife Noha al-Sharafa confirmed his critical state and ongoing recovery in a Jenin hospital. International organizations have noted a deterioration of detention conditions since October 2023. The Committee to Protect Journalists recorded 108 arrests of media workers in the zone during this period, with 102 carried out by Israel.

8 PALESTINIANS KILLED BY ISRAELI FIRE IN GAZA STRIP

On July 8, 2026, the Civil Defense in Gaza reported that 8 people died in various locations due to Israeli airstrikes and gunfire. Nasser Hospital in Khan Yunis received the bodies of 4 people, including a woman and a 10 year old child, who were killed in a strike on a tent for displaced persons. The facility also received the body of truck driver Ahmad Salim, who was shot by soldiers in the al-Mawasi area. The Israeli army claimed Ahmad Salim ran toward soldiers, posing an immediate threat. In Gaza City, Al-Shifa Hospital received 3 more bodies, including a child killed by gunfire in the east and a man killed in an airstrike in the west. ISRAELI MILITARY PROSECUTOR ARRESTED OVER ABUSES VIDEO LEAK

On July 5, 2024, a leaked surveillance video revealed severe abuse, including sexual violence, of a blindfolded, shackled Palestinian detainee by Israeli reservists at the high-security Sde Teiman detention center near Gaza. Five reservists were later indicted for stabbing the detainee near the rectum, fracturing his ribs, perforating his lung, and causing internal rectal tears. On November 3, 2025, former military prosecutor general Yifat Tomer-Yerushalmi, a general, was arrested for allegedly leaking the video to media in August 2024. She faces charges of fraud, obstruction of justice and unauthorized disclosure. Her detention was extended until November 5. National Security Minister Itamar Ben Gvir confirmed her arrest.

MUSLIM STATES PUSH FOR PALESTINIAN SELF-RULE

On November 3, 2025, foreign ministers from Turkey, Saudi Arabia, Qatar, UAE, Jordan, Pakistan, and Indonesia met in Istanbul and rejected any “new system of tutelage” for Gaza, insisting “Palestinians must govern Palestinians.” Turkish FM Hakan Fidan called for rapid Palestinian reconciliation between Hamas and the Palestinian Authority to strengthen international representation.

ISRAELI LAWMAKERS SUPPORTS DEATH PENALTY

On November 3, 2025, Israel’s Knesset Security Committee approved a bill mandating the death penalty for “terrorists” convicted of racially or ideologically motivated murder. The amendment, backed by far-right National Security Minister Itamar Ben Gvir, aims to “cut terrorism at its root” and create “strong deterrence.” Ben Gvir threatened to withdraw coalition support if the bill is not voted on by November 9. The proposal, introduced by his Otzma Yehudit party, would make the death penalty non-negotiable for such convictions. Ben Gvir had previously posted a video of himself in front of detained Palestinians, calling for their execution.

TURKISH RESCUE TEAM BLOCKED IN RAFAH

On October 30, 2025, a Turkish disaster response team (known as the AFAD), sent by Ankara to recover bodies in Gaza’s rubble, remained stranded at the Rafah crossing due to Israel’s refusal to grant entry. A Turkish Defense Ministry source accused Israel of failing to fully honor ceasefire terms, noting that only partial humanitarian aid is being allowed through. However, Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu asserted Israel’s veto power over any international force, explicitly opposing Turkish participation due to its ties with Hamas.

ISRAEL BANS RED CROSS ACCESS TO DETAINEES

On October 29, 2025, Israeli Defense Minister Israel Katz signed a decree barring the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) from visiting Palestinian detainees held under Israel’s “illegal combatants” law, which allows indefinite detention without charge. The ban formalized a status quo in place since October 7, 2023, citing “national security” risks. The ICRC confirmed it had been denied access since that date. Human rights NGOs had already reported delays and restrictions on legal visits. During a Supreme Court hearing, the State agreed to share only names and detention locations for non-Gaza/Hamas-affiliated prisoners. As of early October, 2,673 “illegal combatants” were held; hundreds were released in October 13 ceasefire deal.

ISRAEL PROHIBITS I.C.R.C. FROM VISITING DETAINEES

On October 29, 2025, Israeli Defense Minister Israel Katz signed a decree barring the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) from visiting Palestinian detainees held under Israel's "illegal combatants" law, which allows indefinite detention without charge. Katz claimed such visits endanger national security. The ICRC stated it has had no access to Palestinian detainees since October 7, 2023, emphasizing its role is purely humanitarian. The decree was announced hours before a Supreme Court hearing on the matter, where state attorney Ron Rosenberg said Israel would soon allow the ICRC to receive only the names and detention locations of prisoners not linked to Gaza or Hamas. NGOs report 2,673 "illegal combatants" were detained as of early October, with several hundred released on October 13 as part of the ceasefire agreement.

101 MURDERED IN ONE NIGHT

On the night of October 28–29, 2025, Israeli airstrikes killed at least 101 people in Gaza, including 35 children, several women, and elderly individuals, according to Mahmoud Bassal, spokesperson for Gaza's Civil Defense. Five hospitals confirmed receiving the victims within a 12-hour period.

NETANYAHU ORDERS NEW STRIKES DESPITE CEASEFIRE

On October 28, 2025, Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu ordered immediate airstrikes on Gaza, accusing Hamas of violating the ceasefire. Since the ceasefire of October 10, 94 Gazans have been killed in Israeli strikes, amid fears of renewed war. The ceasefire, brokered by the US, includes Hamas's disarmament and Israeli withdrawal, but tensions remain high.

THREE KILLED IN WEST BANK RAID

On October 28, 2025, Israeli forces killed three Palestinians, Abdallah Mohammed Omar Jalamneh, Ziad Nasser Jaas, and Ahmed Azmi Aref Nachrati, during a raid in Kafr Qud, west of Jenin, in the occupied West Bank. The Israeli police and army stated the men were members of a "terrorist cell" planning an attack, linked to a group active in Jenin's refugee camp. According to Israeli accounts, the elite Yamam unit opened fire as the men exited a cave, killing two immediately and wounding a third, who was later "neutralized" by an airstrike. The Palestinian Health Ministry confirmed the identities and ages of the victims, all in their twenties. Footage showed the aftermath: a burned car, scorched olive trees, and personal belongings near the cave's entrance. Israeli Defense Minister Israel Katz claimed the operation thwarted a "serious attack threat".

HOSPITAL HIT

On October 28, 2025, Gaza's Civil Defense reported at least three Israeli airstrikes on Gaza City, despite the ceasefire in effect since October 10. Mahmoud Bassal, spokesperson for the Civil Defense, stated that Israel was bombing Gaza. Strikes hit the courtyard of al-Shifa Hospital, as confirmed by hospital director Mohammed Abou Salmiya. The strikes also hit Abou Hassira Street and the al-Zeitoun neighborhood. Later, the Civil Defense announced five additional deaths in a separate airstrike.

ISRAEL VOWS VETO OVER GAZA INTERNATIONAL PRESENCE

On October 26, 2025, Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu asserted Israel's right to veto any members of the proposed international stabilization force for post-war Gaza, particularly opposing Turkish participation. US Secretary of State Marco Rubio emphasized the need for forces "Israel feels comfortable with." Meanwhile, Egypt sent heavy equipment into Gaza to assist in locating hostage remains, as Hamas's chief negotiator Khalil al-Hayya pledged to prevent Israel from using the issue to restart the war. Al-Hayya reiterated Hamas's refusal to disarm unless Israel fully withdraws: "Our weapons are tied to the occupation. If the occupation ends, these weapons will return to the state."

STRIKES IN CENTRAL GAZA

On October 25, 2025, the Israeli military conducted an airstrike in Gaza's Nuseirat camp, targeting a suspected Islamic Jihad operative allegedly planning an imminent attack against Israeli forces. The strike hit a civilian vehicle, wounding four people, according to Al-Awda Hospital. Israel's army stated it would continue operations in Gaza to "eliminate any immediate threat" to its troops, despite a fragile US-brokered ceasefire with Hamas and Islamic Jihad.

CRITICS OVER CONTROVERSIAL AID GROUP

On October 25, 2025, the Gaza Humanitarian Foundation (GHF), a private US-Israeli-backed aid group, announced readiness to restart food distributions in Gaza. Spokesperson Chapin Fay stated GHF had paused operations during the ongoing hostage release phase. The group, launched in May after Israel's three-month blockade, has faced sharp criticism from the UN and NGOs. Over 1,000 people have been killed near its sites. UN experts called for GHF's dissolution in August, alleging aid is used for covert military and geopolitical purposes. GHF, which replaced a UN system of 400 distribution centers with only four, remains isolated from other aid organizations.

EQUIPMENT WITH POTENTIAL MILITARY APPLICATION SENT FROM FRANCE TO ISRAEL

On October 23, 2025, French company Sermat was scheduled to ship military equipment, including alternators for aircrafts, from Paris Charles-de-Gaulle Airport to Israeli defense company Elbit Systems at Haifa and Kermiel, according to associations BDS and Aser, who warned that this could violate the UN Arms Trade Treaty by supplying arms potentially used in crimes against civilians in Gaza. Prime Minister Sébastien Lecornu denied that any French weapons had been sent to Israel, despite investigative reporting by Disclose suggesting otherwise. Protests were planned at Roissy-CDG on October 25, highlighting concerns over France's role in the conflict involving the Israeli army under Benjamin Netanyahu.

DISCRIMINATIONS AGAINST PALESTINIANS FROM WEST BANK, US OFFICIALS CRITICIZE ANNEXATION PLANS

Since October 2023, the Israeli government under Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has revoked the work permits of 120,000 Palestinians from the West Bank. On October 23, 2025, during visits by U.S. Vice President JD Vance and Secretary of State Marco Rubio, both officials rejected any Israeli annexation of the West Bank after Israel's parliament advanced two bills to extend sovereignty over the territory. President Donald Trump, in an interview with Time on October 15, warned that Israel would lose U.S. support if it proceeded, emphasizing his commitment to Arab partners in the Gaza ceasefire talks. Vance called the parliamentary initiative a "stupid political move". Rubio, meeting Netanyahu in Jerusalem, warned such plans could undermine the Gaza truce but expressed confidence in its continuation.

INTERNATIONAL PRESS STILL NOT ALLOWED INSIDE GAZA

On October 23, 2025, an Israeli Supreme Court judge granted a 30-day extension to review a petition by the Foreign Press Association (FPA) seeking independent media access to Gaza, citing the situation on the ground as still "delicate and difficult to assess." No new hearing date was set. The FPA, represented by lawyer Gilead Sher, argued that access should have been reconsidered during previous ceasefires in November 2023 and early 2025. FPA President Tania Kraemer and board member Nicolas Rouget urged Israel to allow international journalists to work alongside their Palestinian colleagues, the only reporters covering Gaza since the war began in October 2023. Reporters Without Borders (RSF), represented by Antoine Bernard, joined the petition, noting that over 210 Palestinian journalists have been killed. A video recording of the hearing was released, marking the first Supreme Court session on this case since the FPA's filing two years earlier.

PALESTINIAN NEWBORNS AND MOTHERS IN DANGER DUE TO LACK OF HUMANITARIAN AID

On October 22, 2025, Andrew Saberton, a representative of the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA), warned that malnutrition among pregnant women and newborns in Gaza would have "generational effects," leading to lifelong health complications for babies currently being born in the enclave. Speaking at a press conference at UN headquarters in New York after a five-day mission to Jerusalem, the West Bank, and Gaza—where he spent five hours—Saberton described the extent of the devastation in Gaza as resembling "a dystopian movie set." According to Saberton, one in four Gazans suffers from hunger, including 11,500 pregnant women. As a result, 70% of newborns are now premature and underweight, compared to 20% before October 2023. Neonatal units are operating at 170% capacity, forcing hospitals to place multiple infants in a single incubator. He added that one in three pregnancies is now classified as high risk, and maternal mortality remains "high." Additionally, 700,000 women and girls face severe difficulties managing their menstrual hygiene due to shortages of clean water, privacy, and sanitary products. Gaza records approximately 130 births per day. The WHO's Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus meanwhile described Gaza's humanitarian situation as "catastrophic," with persistent hunger despite ongoing aid.

CIVILIANS SHOT BY ISRAELI ARMY

On October 20, 2025, Mahmoud Bassal, spokesperson for the Gaza Civil Defense, reported that four Palestinians were killed and one seriously wounded by Israeli fire in two incidents east of Gaza City, near the Al-Shaaf area of Al-Tuffah district. According to Bassal, the victims were returning to check their homes when they were shot. Two were taken to Al-Ahli Hospital and two to Al-Shifa Hospital. The Israeli army stated it had fired at “terrorists who crossed the yellow line,” referring to a withdrawal boundary established under the ceasefire. The military later announced it had begun materializing the yellow line to “provide tactical clarity on the ground,” installing 3.5-meter-high yellow poles roughly every 200 meters.

ISRAEL PAUSES HUMANITARIAN DELIVERIES

On October 19, 2025, an Israeli security official, speaking anonymously to the AFP, announced that Israel had suspended humanitarian aid deliveries to the Gaza Strip, citing a “flagrant violation of the ceasefire” by Hamas. The official stated that the suspension would last “until further notice.” The following day, October 20, the same source confirmed the reopening of the Kerem Shalom crossing between Israel and Gaza.

ISRAELI STRIKES KILL AT LEAST 45 PEOPLE DESPITE CEASEFIRE

On Sunday, October 19, 2025, Israeli airstrikes in the Gaza Strip killed at least 45 people, according to Gaza’s Civil Defense, which operates under the authority of the Hamas movement. Among the victims were civilians and a journalist. The strikes, confirmed by four hospitals in Gaza, were described as the most severe since the ceasefire began on October 10. The Israeli military stated that the attacks were carried out in response to alleged Hamas assaults, and later that evening announced the cessation of airstrikes and the resumption of the ceasefire, while also reviewing reports of civilian casualties. Following the strikes, Israel suspended the entry of humanitarian aid into Gaza “until further notice,” according to an Israeli official. Speaking aboard the presidential aircraft, U.S. President Donald Trump affirmed that the ceasefire remained in effect, emphasizing that Hamas leadership was not directly responsible for the truce violations, instead attributing them to “some rebels within the movement.” In Bureij, central Gaza, resident Abdallah Abou Hassanein, aged 29, described the situation as resembling a return to war, stating that bombardments had intensified and struck homes, tents, and a school, causing renewed bloodshed.

78% OF GAZA DESTROYED

In Gaza, after two years of conflict, 78% of buildings—about 193,000 structures—have been damaged or destroyed, leaving the territory under more than 61 million tonnes of debris, according to UN data. The fragile ceasefire between Hamas and Israel, effective October 10 under pressure from U.S. President Donald Trump, allows for the beginning of reconstruction. Satellite imagery from September 22–23 showed that 83% of buildings in Gaza-City were damaged or destroyed. The debris includes at least 4.9 million tonnes potentially contaminated with asbestos and 2.9 million tonnes from former industrial sites that may contain toxic chemicals, according to UNEP. Most destruction occurred in the first five months of the war, with an acceleration between April and July 2025, particularly in the south between Rafah and Khan Younès.

COMPLAINT FILED IN FRANCE

A legal complaint was filed in Paris against Airbnb and Booking.com for complicity in war crimes, alleging they profit from listings in illegal Israeli settlements in the West Bank, and that their platforms contribute to the expansion and normalization of settlements.

INVOLVEMENT OF TURKEY

Turkey deployed 81 disaster response specialists to Gaza to search for bodies under rubble, with a team already on the ground and experienced in complex rescue operations.

HUMANITARIAN CRISIS

The UN warned of an “absolute emergency” in Gaza, with only 13 of 36 hospitals partially operational, epidemic outbreaks, and severe malnutrition, especially among children. The World Health Organization reported 167,376 people with permanent disabilities, a quarter of them children, and a collapse of vaccination programs. The Rafah crossing remains closed, blocking aid delivery, and the UN’s diplomat for Humanitarian Affairs and Emergency Relief Coordination Tom Fletcher called for the immediate opening of all border crossings to prevent famine and provide medical supplies. The death toll in Gaza since October 2023 has reached at least 67,938, mostly civilians.

EXECUTIONS

On October 14, Hamas broadcast a video showing the summary execution of eight men accused of collaborating with Israel in Gaza City, with the victims blindfolded and shot. The same day, Israeli drone strikes killed six Palestinians in Shujaiya and Al-Fukhari, with Israel claiming the victims were “suspects” approaching its forces. The Gaza Civil Defense reported five civilians killed while inspecting their damaged homes, and a sixth in a separate drone attack, despite the ceasefire.

INTER-PALESTINIAN VIOLENCE

On October 13, deadly clashes erupted in Gaza City’s Sabra neighborhood between Hamas security forces and the Doghmoush clan, resulting in multiple deaths and injuries on both sides. Hamas accused the clan of collaboration with Israel and arrested 60 members, while the Doghmoush family denied collaboration but admitted some members committed “deviations.” The violence followed a Hamas-declared amnesty for non-lethal criminals, but witnesses reported acts of violence nonetheless.

CEASEFIRE AND PRISONER EXCHANGE

On October 13, 2025, Israel released 1,968 Palestinian detainees in exchange for 20 living hostages held by Hamas, as part of the ceasefire agreement. The Red Cross was dispatched to recover the bodies of deceased hostages in southern Gaza. By October 14, Hamas had returned nine of the 28 bodies of deceased hostages, prompting Israeli Defense Minister Israel Katz to threaten a resumption of combat if all bodies were not handed over. The ceasefire remains fragile. On October 16th, Mohammad Hallaq, an 11-year-old boy, was killed by the Israeli army near Hebron in the occupied West Bank, where Israeli forces said they fired at people throwing stones at them.

The UN has updated its list of companies linked to Israeli settlements in the West Bank, now totaling 158 firms, most of them Israeli. The list includes Booking.com, Motorola Solutions, and TripAdvisor, and is intended to highlight corporate responsibility in conflict zones. Israel rejects the list as legally baseless and politically motivated. Meanwhile, settlement expansion continues, with 61 new outposts established in 2025 alone, and plans for 3,400 new housing units in the West Bank. Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has vowed to double Jewish settlements in response to international recognition of Palestinian statehood.

The US will deploy 200 troops to monitor compliance, with Egypt, Qatar, Turkey, and the UAE also involved in oversight.

Turkey's armed forces are "ready to assume any mission" in Gaza as part of a peacekeeping force, according to a Defense Ministry source. President Recep Tayyip Erdogan and Foreign Minister Hakan Fidan have both expressed Turkey's willingness to participate in implementing the ceasefire, with Fidan stating that a team comprising the US, Egypt, Turkey, and Qatar will act as mediators between Israel and Hamas.

Israeli forces have begun withdrawing from several areas of the Gaza Strip, including parts of Gaza City and Khan Younis, according to Mohammad Al-Moughayyir, director of the humanitarian aid department of Gaza's Civil Defense. The withdrawal follows the ceasefire agreement brokered with Hamas, with the Israeli army confirming "adjustments" to its operational positions overnight. Despite the pullback, fighting persists: Al-Moughayyir reported that Israeli forces targeted municipal workers in Gaza's Sheikh Radwan neighborhood, killing one, and another civilian was killed in Khan Younis. Mahmoud Bassal, Civil Defense spokesperson, noted ongoing airstrikes and artillery fire in northern Gaza.
